INAMAR Recreational Marine Insurance Strikes Strategic Alliance with Provider of Satellite Safety and Security Communications; Offers Boat Owners Premium Discount with Activated SeaKey® Systems

PHILADELPHIA –November 1, 2006 – INAMAR® Recreational Marine Insurance, the nation’s oldest marine insurance provider, has announced a strategic alliance with SeaKey, LLC, a leader in satellite safety and security communications, whereby boat owners with activated SeaKey® systems installed on their boats can receive up to a 10 percent discount on marine insurance.

For more than two centuries, INAMAR and its predecessor companies have been providing exceptional all-risk marine insurance coverage for yachts and boats of all sizes, from the smallest to the largest. With products available in all states, and the capacity for worldwide coverage, INAMAR’s insurance programs are also designed to meet unique boating niches based on vessel size, type and usage.

“INAMAR has long been a promoter of boating safety and loss prevention,” said Ray Stahl, President of INAMAR Recreational Marine Insurance. “Providing the opportunity for a significant premium savings of up to 10 percent to those customers with the SeaKey system, is another way we can demonstrate our commitment to improving safety and claims avoidance for recreational boaters.”

SeaKey v2.0 is a satellite-based, safety and security system that monitors the boat and communicates vital information to the boat owner, to the SeaKey 24/7 Response Center, and the owner's personal SeaKey website. SeaKey monitors battery voltage, bilge level, the location of the vessel, and a sophisticated geofence that sends an alarm in the event of a theft attempt. By alerting the boat owner, SeaKey can help prevent further damage; saving hundreds, if not thousands of dollars. The system also includes SOS and non-emergency messaging that sends the encoded GPS coordinates, allowing the SeaKey Response Center to coordinate with responders and service providers.

“SeaKey is committed to helping boaters enjoy their boating experience to the fullest by contributing to their peace of mind,” said Jan Hellaker, General Manager of SeaKey, LLC. “Our proven benefits are prompting industry-leading insurance providers such as INAMAR to add this discount program for boaters, and we can bring added value to our members by helping them lower the cost of ownership and help keep themselves and their boat safe.”
